Jay Pennington

Jay Pennington is a cloud software engineer at The Aerospace Corporation. His main roles include researching cutting-edge cloud technologies, building prototypes, and advising customers on cloud best practices. In his four years at Aerospace, Jay has worked with dozens of cloud tools, and he specializes in knowledge of Amazon Web Services, containerization, and data streaming. Jay received a B.S. in Computer Engineering and a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from Virginia Tech.