

John Teter

John Teter has supported satellite launch and checkout campaigns for both NASA projects and commercial ventures. He has supported launch campaigns for large earth observatories (TERRA, AQUA, NPP) as well as small commercial earth imagers (Skybox/Google) in both technical and leadership roles. His roles have encompassed both ground system integration activities as well as flight team preparation and leadership. He has spent most of his career supporting NASA at Goddard Spaceflight Center in Greenbelt Maryland.
