

Ground System Architectures Workshop

Joseph Yankel
DevSecOps Initiative Lead
Software Engineering Institute

Joseph Yankel is a Senior Engineer and Initiative Lead of the DevSecOps Innovations team at the Software Engineering Institute and an adjunct professor for Executive & Professional Education in the School of Computer Science at Carnegie Mellon University. He is a frequent presenter, author, and participant in DevSecOps events and conferences throughout the United States and abroad. His current work revolves around on analyzing and improving the DevSecOps posture of organizations working with the SEI.

Brent Clausner
DevSecOps Engineer
Software Engineering Institute

Brent Clausner is a DevOps Engineer at the Software Engineering Institute. His background is rooted in software development having worked as a Software Engineer, Quality Assurance Engineer, and DevOps engineer. He is a proponent to having projects adhere to the best practices and advocates for robust secure code being implemented.